The School of Humanities and Social Sciences (SHSS) is organizing the SNU’s SHSS Inaugural Lecture Series at India International Centre, New Delhi. These will be public lectures, once every week, delivered by the faculty members in the School and will cover their current work and research. The purpose of these lectures is to disseminate to a wider audience the work done by academicians at SNU.

Shubhashis Gangopadhyay will be delivering the first lecture, titled “Trusts and the Market for Ideas” on February 8, 2014 at 2:15 pm. The talk will be followed by a question and answer session.
