Shiv Nadar varsity in Greater Noida

New Delhi, April 25

The Shiv Nadar Foundation has set up a university in Greater Noida, bordering the capital. The university will offer under-graduate, post-graduate and professional degrees across a number of disciplines, a company release said. Called the Shiv Nadar University, the foundation announced the appointment of Dr Nikhil Sinha as its founding Vice-Chancellor. The university will begin its academic programmes with the launch of the school of engineering this academic year and plans to roll out other schools in the coming years, including schools of business, humanities, natural sciences and social sciences. — Our Bureau
