ONE-YEAR JOINT MA OFFERED BY SHIV NADAR UNIVERSITY, INDIA AND SOAS UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

THE COLLABORATION

The Department of Sociology, Shiv Nadar University, Delhi NCR in collaboration with Department of Anthropology and Sociology, SOAS, University of London launches a Joint MA in Global Urban Sociology .

This unique jointly-taught and jointly-awarded one-year MA between SOAS and Shiv Nadar University allows students to study in two premier institutions and two contrasting cities. Students will receive rigorous sociological training as well as cultural immersion in the UK and India, in a partnership programme that combines student mobility with cutting edge research-led teaching. The programme welcomes a global cohort of students interested in academic training as well as in upskilling professional profiles.

With the intent of supporting a vibrant classroom environment, we encourage applications from anywhere in the world.

- Students will be registered at both SOAS and Shiv Nadar IoE, and have access to resources and facilities from both institutions throughout the programme.

- The programme has a single tuition fee set for all students regardless of country of origin -12,500 GBP.

- Upon completion of the programme, students will be jointly-awarded a MA by both SOAS and Shiv NadarUniversity, Delhi NCR.

ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

The vision of the programme content is to offer a rare classroom where globally informed debates will illuminate location sensitive concerns. This MA specifically seeks to foreground how social science knowledge can be deployed to both understand and tackle real-world issues in the context of the most significant transformation of the ways in which we occupy the planet, i.e. urbanization.
